On Monday, November 28, 2016, the coliseum management company Spectra introduced a remarkable flooring system, which that they say will save money for event organizers. Last months, county commissioners agreed to buy the flooring. SPLOST money was used for the purchase at a cost of over $90,000.

The new flooring acts as an ice covering during other events, which is removable whenever the Macon Mayhem need to practice or for a game. The first test of the new floor: this weekend. "It's skid-resistant, but it also has a conduit that is allows air so there won't be any condensation on the top layer, so people will be able to walk, have a
