Copper flooring

Imagine a copper surface sourced from minted materials. The project required some change; literally, spare pocket change.

Numismatists are likely to appreciate the complexity of the task, as the aging currency unlike its modern counterpart is the variety that contains copper.

After the aging coins were sorted apart from the modern ones, they were arranged and affixed onto the grouted surface. The coins were carefully sealed into a mosaic pattern. Heads up: All of the coins were placed, meticulously, facing upwards!

It is a DIY project for the ages. The design is unique. The cost of the project was affordable although it was time consuming.
