Each skill requires an education and training. Focus on one skill at a time. Otherwise, it's overwhelming. As with most types of skill development, there is a gradual progression through the ranks. It begins with pre-apprentice and graduates to apprentice, to journeyman, to post-journeyman, to leadman, to foreman and ideally to superintendent. Have the time? Are you so inclined? Or are you pressed for time? Depending on your situation, you can choose to specialize in one area of expertise or learn many skills. It's your decision.
