Alphabet's Wing

As Wing (the Alphabet-owned drone delivery company) expands its drone delivery system beyond its original test cities, its delivery network is expected to be a decentralized, automated system capable of supporting high-volume drone delivery in areas ranging from densely-populated to sparsely-populated.

The system will include a fleet of drones, pads for drone launches, landings, recharging and innovative auto loaders that allow packages to be preloaded for pickup; a valuable part of their process likely to improve last-mile delivery.

Wing has piloted its automated delivery system in cities all around the world.
